Basic Search - More than One Database

The screenshot shows the ProQuest search interface. At the top left, a yellow box highlights the hamburger menu icon. A yellow arrow points from this icon to a yellow box containing the text "You are searching 293 databases". A yellow callout box with an arrow points to this text, stating "Shows the total number of databases you are searching". Below the menu icon, a vertical sidebar is visible with the following items: "All Databases (293)", "Basic Search", "Advanced Search", "Publications", "Browse", "Change Databases", "Help", "About ProQuest", "Company Website", "Our Products", "About Dissertations", "Contact Us", "Careers", and "International Websites". A yellow box highlights the "Change Databases" link in the sidebar, with a yellow callout box pointing to it that says "View all databases". The main search area features a navigation bar with "Basic Search", "Advanced Search", "Publications", and "Browse". Below this is a filter bar with buttons for "All", "Scholarly Journals", "Books", "Videos & Audio", "Dissertations & Theses", and "All source types". A search input field contains the placeholder text "Enter search terms..." and a search button with a magnifying glass icon. Below the input field are checkboxes for "Full text" and "Peer reviewed". A "Search tips" link is located at the bottom right of the search area. The background of the interface is a landscape image of a desert canyon.

Basic Search – Limit Your Search

The screenshot shows the ProQuest search interface. At the top, the ProQuest logo is on the left, and 'Access provided by PQCS Internal - ProQuest Associate My Research Acc' is on the right. Below the header, it says 'You are searching 293 databases'. There are navigation tabs for 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search', 'Publications', 'Browse', and 'Change Databases'. The 'Basic Search' tab is active. Below the tabs is a search bar with the placeholder text 'Enter search terms...'. To the right of the search bar are two checkboxes: 'Full text' (checked) and 'Peer reviewed' (unchecked). Below the search bar is a dropdown menu for source types. The dropdown menu is open, showing a list of source types with checkboxes next to them. The source types listed are: Archival Materials, Artistic & Aesthetic Works, Blogs, Podcasts, & Websites, Books, Conference Papers & Proceedings, Dissertations & Theses, Encyclopedias & Reference Works, Government & Official Publications, Historical Newspapers, Historical Periodicals, Magazines, Newspapers, Other Sources, Pamphlets & Ephemeral Works, Reports, Scholarly Journals, Standards & Practice Guidelines, Trade Journals, Videos & Audio, Wire Feeds, and Working Papers. At the bottom of the dropdown menu are 'Apply' and 'Clear' buttons. There are two yellow callout boxes. One points to the 'Peer reviewed' checkbox with the text: 'Click on the check box to limit your search to Full Text AND/OR Peer reviewed'. The other points to the 'All source types' dropdown menu with the text: 'Select from various tabs to get specific source types in the results. The check box allows you to select more than one source type.'

Search Tips

A search bar is visible in the middle of the page with a search button labeled "Search tips". A yellow arrow points from the "Search tips" label to this button.

A help menu is open, showing a "Table of Contents" on the left with items like "Welcome", "Search syntax and field codes", "Search", "Search results", "Document view", and "My Research". The main content area of the help menu is titled "Search Tips" and includes a "Print this topic" link. Below this, it says "Search syntax and field codes > Search Tips" and "Looking for field code lists?". A paragraph follows: "Successful searching is largely about being precise. The tips, techniques, and information here can help you search with precision and find what you need." Below this is a "Basics" section with a list of links: "How ProQuest interprets your search", "Operators, fields, and special characters", "Operator precedence", "Search fields", "Wildcards and truncation", and "Subject searching". A yellow box highlights this list, and a yellow arrow points from it to a larger yellow box containing a list of search techniques.

The larger yellow box contains the following text:

- Boolean Operators
- Phrase Searching
- Proximity Searching
- Wildcard & Truncation Search

At the bottom of the page, there is a search bar with the text "Search" and a search icon.

Basic Search – A Single Database

Results Page

The screenshot shows a ProQuest search results page for the query "Electric Vehicle" AND "Global Warming". The page displays 25,716 results. On the left, there is a sidebar with various filter options. A yellow box highlights this sidebar, and a yellow arrow points from a text box to it. The text box contains the following text: "Use the filter options on the left-hand side of the results page to apply filters to refine and narrow down your search results. Used filters are kept track of at the top of the list. Click the 'X' to remove a filter from your search strategy." Another yellow box highlights a section of the search results, and a yellow arrow points from a text box to it. The text box contains the following text: "This section highlights the Book chapters or Ebooks and Videos available as per the databases accessible by your library." The search results are sorted by Relevance and include various document types such as News Release, Newspaper, Wire Feed, and Historical Newspaper. On the right side, there are sections for "Books that match your search" and "Videos that match your search".

Markey, Biggert, McNeerney, Eshoo Introduce Bipartisan Electric Vehicle Bill: House Select Committee on Energy Independence and Global Warming Committee News Release

Congressional Documents and Publications; Washington Washington: Federal Information & News Dispatch, LLC. (May 27, 2010)

Abstract (summary)

The legislation will help create jobs and end our dependence on foreign oil by providing incentives to consumers to purchase electric vehicles , grants to selected communities to demonstrate widespread deployment of electric vehicles , and other measures to incentivize both deployment and domestic production of the needed vehicle components and charging infrastructure. Highlights of the Electric Drive Vehicle Deployment Act include: * The Secretary of Energy will competitively award $800 million to 5 different deployment communities around the country, with the objective of deploying 700,000 electric vehicles in those communities within six years. * At least $2,000 in additional consumer incentives for the first 100,000 consumers purchasing electric vehicles in these communities would be provided. * All Americans would continue to be eligible for the electric vehicle tax credit, which reduces the prices of an electric vehicle by up to $7500, and additionally, tax credits of the costs of purchase and installation of electric vehicle charging equipment for individuals (up to $2000) or businesses (up to $50,000 for multiple equipment purchases) would be extended. * Additional research, development, deployment and manufacturing incentives are provided for technologies that enable the widespread deployment of electric vehicles and charging infrastructure.

premium solution to global warming and various types of pollution. Nonetheless, a key concern is the study proposes a novel approach that considers the costs of transportation loss, buildup, and substation power loss into optimal rapid charging station (RCS) planning. A novel optimization technique, called BLSA, is proposed to solve the optimization problem. BLSA is also applied to a conventional RCS planning method. To assess the performance of the two RCS planning methods by using the IEEE 34-bus test system, comparative studies show that the proposed BLSA is better than other optimization techniques. The daily total cost of the proposed method, including harmonic power loss, decreases by 10% compared with that of the conventional method.

Abstract

Translate

The transportation sector of the world is in the transformation stage, shifting from conventional fossil fuel-powered vehicles to zero or ultra-low tailpipe emission vehicles. To support this transformation, a proper charging station (CS) infrastructure in combination with information technology, smart distributed energy generating units, and favorable government policies are required. The motive of this paper is to address the key aspects to be taken care of while planning for the charging station infrastructure for electric vehicles. The paper also provides major indagation and developments in planning and technological aspects that are going on for the enhancement of the design and efficient management of charging station infrastructure. The paper addresses the present scenario of India related to electric vehicle charging station developments. The paper specially provides a critical review on the research and developments in the charging station infrastructure, the problems associated with it, and the efforts that are going on for its standardization to help the researchers address the problems.

The main content area displays the title "Stator-Permanent Magnet Motor Drives" and the page number "161". A diagram, labeled "Figure 6.18", illustrates the PM and winding arrangements of an FSPM machine. The diagram shows a cross-section of the machine with a stator and a rotor. The stator has two poles labeled "S" and "N". The rotor has two poles labeled "S" and "N". Red dashed arrows indicate the magnetic flux path from the stator poles through the rotor poles and back to the stator. Labels "PM", "Stator", "Winding", and "Rotor" are used to identify the different parts of the machine.

Introductory remarks, Xenarthra in general

According to Coombs (1983), the recent Xenarthra include animals with a wide range of habits: from digging, as developed in modern armadillos such as Proechinotes, to climbing (= scansorial, for example, in Bradypus, Choloepus, Nyctatura et al., 2010), with some representatives capable of both terrestrial and arboreal locomotion (Tamandua). Diets range from insects and other animal matter to leaves and twigs. The sloths throughout their evolution seem to have been a plant-eating group. There is now little support for the establishment of a close relationship between Xenarthra and the Pholidota (pangolins) in a superorder Edeontata (Rose and Emry, 1993). Xenarthra and Pholidota have to be separated (Shoshani and McCrema, 1998), based on morphological criteria and molecular data.

According to the account presented by Vizcaino and Loughry (2008), Xenarthra evolved two distinct orders within this superorder: (1) the Cingulata, exemplified by modern-day armadillos, which are noted for the armour covering their head, body, and tail, and their minimal, peglike teeth, and (2) the Pilosa, comprising

Video player features

- On the video player, you'll see searchable, scrolling transcripts, captions, cite options, playback speed (under the gear), and more.

The screenshot displays a video player interface. At the top, navigation options include 'Fullscreen', 'Transcript' (highlighted in red), 'Details', and 'Clips'. A search icon and a user profile icon are also visible. The video content shows a woman speaking at a podium with a large red banner that reads 'LOS TRABAJADORES DE LA UFW VALLE DE COAHUILA'. The transcript sidebar on the right is titled 'Search transcript' and contains a list of time-coded text segments. The playback control bar at the bottom shows the video title 'Dolores', a progress bar at 18:38 / 1:36:47, and various control icons including play, volume, and settings.

00:18:36 ELISEO: And then I think she looks deep within you

00:18:38 and she understands what you're capable of.

00:18:41 That you actually can do more

00:18:42 than what you thought was possible.

00:18:45 DOLORES: When we started to organize farm workers,

00:18:47 people would say to us, they're poor,

00:18:49 they don't speak English, they're not citizens.

00:18:52 How are you gonna possibly organize them?

00:18:54 And of course, the response we had to that is,

00:18:59 the power is in your body.

Video player translations

If you want to translate, the platform, transcripts, or captions, you can choose one of the available languages for each of those features. Available languages are Simplified Chinese, French, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese, Spanish, and Dutch.

The screenshot displays a video player interface with a dark theme. At the top, navigation options include 'Fullscreen', 'Transcript' (highlighted in red), 'Details', and 'Clips'. A search icon and a user profile icon are also visible. The video player shows a scene with a red banner that has 'LOS TRABAJADORES' and 'U' visible. A 'Select language' dialog box is open, listing the following languages: Chinese (Simplified), French, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese, Spanish, and Dutch. A disclaimer is present above the list: 'You have requested "on-the-fly" machine translation of selected content from our databases. This functionality is provided solely for your convenience and is in no way intended to replace human translation.' Below the list is a 'Show full disclaimer' link. To the right of the video player, a transcript panel is open, showing a search bar and a list of transcript entries with timestamps and text. The entries include: 18:36 ELISEO: And then I think she looks deep within you; 18:38 and she understands what you're capable of.; 18:41 That you actually can do more; 18:42 than what you thought was possible.; 18:45 DOLORES: When we started to organize farm workers,; 18:47 people would say to us, they're poor,; 18:49 they don't speak English, they're not citizens.; 18:52 How are you gonna possibly organize them?; 00:18:54 And of course, the response we had to that is,; 00:18:59 the power is in your body.; 00:19:01 (SHOUTING IN SPANISH). The video player controls at the bottom show the title 'Dolores', a progress bar at 18:38 / 1:36:47, and various playback controls.

Searchable filters

- Back on the search page, you can search within each of the filters.
- This example is searching Subjects for Indigenous peoples. The list is already narrowing down though I didn't finish typing indigenous.
- I can also add multiple filters to narrow the search further.

The screenshot displays the Alexander Street Academic Video Online search interface. The top navigation bar is red and contains the Alexander Street logo (Part of Clarivate), the text "80329 Videos", a search icon, and a search input field with the text "Search...".

The main content area is white and features a large video player thumbnail on the left with the text "ACADEMIC VIDEO ONLINE". Below the thumbnail are buttons for "Play Channel" and "Share".

The search results are displayed in a grid layout. The "Search In Subject" filter is active, showing a list of suggestions for "Indigeno|":

- Indigenous peoples (296)
- Indigenous media (13)
- Indigenous rights (13)
- Brandy Y's Seeing the USA: Indigenous Stories (7)
- Privileging Indigenous Voices: Hearing the Wisdom of Generations (5)
- Indigenous (4)
- The Indigenous Studies Collection (1)
- Xingu Indigenous Park (1)

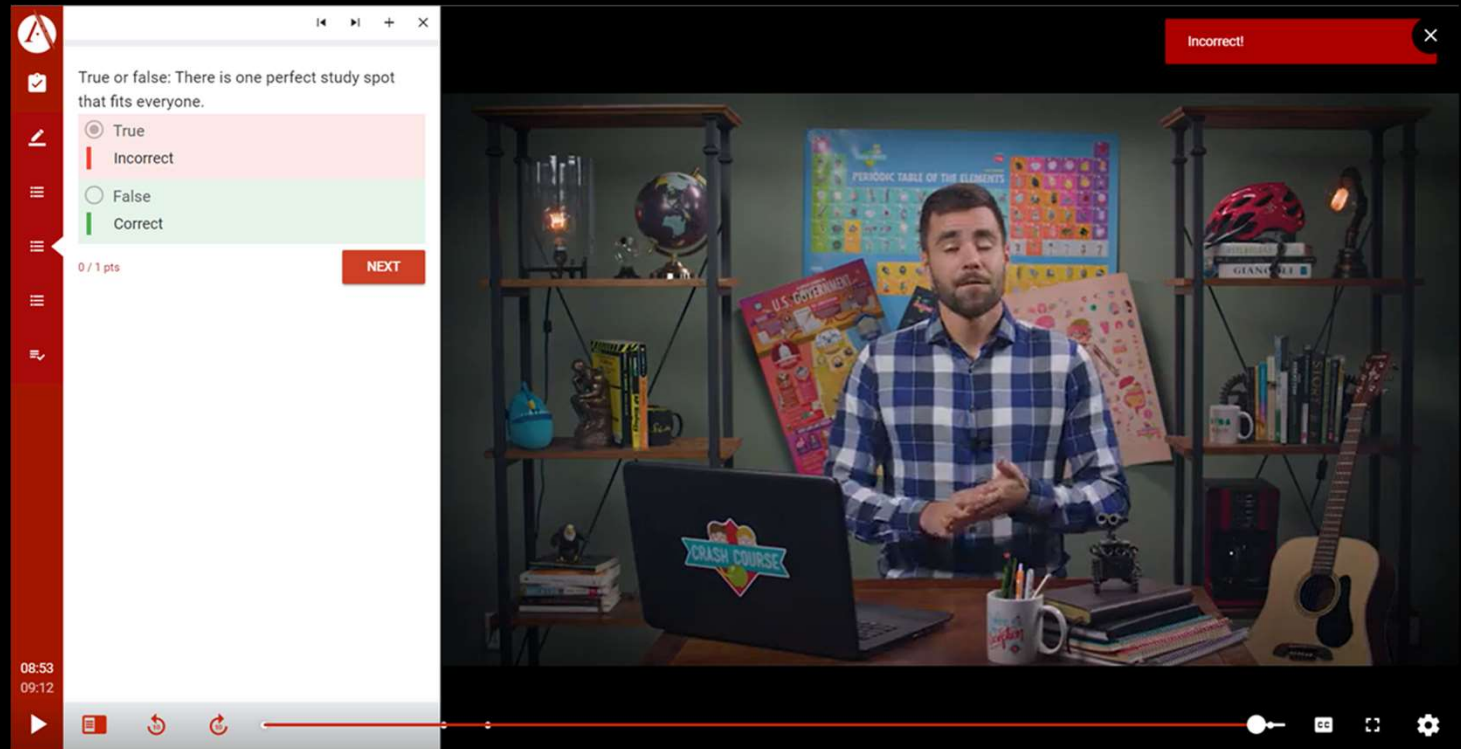

Other filters shown include:

- Publisher: BBC Worldwide (5284), Columbia Broadcasting System (3936), Teachers TV/UK Department of Education (3816), Universal Pictures Company (3625), Bloomberg L.P. (3601)
- Language: English (68980), Dutch (3177), French (1436), Spanish (1054), German (761)
- Release Date: A range slider from 1894 to 2023.

The "Sort by" dropdown is set to "Newest First". A red "X" button is visible at the bottom right of the filter area.

Video Interactions

The image shows a video player interface. On the left, a red sidebar contains navigation icons. A white quiz overlay is positioned in the center-left, displaying a true/false question: "True or false: There is one perfect study spot that fits everyone." The "True" option is selected with a red radio button, and the word "Incorrect" is written in red below it. The "False" option is unselected with a green radio button, and the word "Correct" is written in green below it. A "NEXT" button is visible in the bottom right of the quiz overlay. The video background shows a man in a blue and white plaid shirt standing behind a desk in a study room. The desk has a laptop with a "CRASH COURSE" sticker, a mug, and books. The background features a bookshelf with a globe, a red helmet, and a guitar. A red banner at the top right of the video player says "Incorrect!". The video player controls at the bottom include a play button, a progress bar, and various settings icons.
